e. Training and Capacity Development

- At ICRISAT, I have coordinated capacity building activities of the Village Dynamics in South Asia (VDSA) Project. During the six years (May 2009-September 2016), the VDSA project has trained 12 PhD research students, 63 research interns and 524 researchers (scientists, field investigators and students). Student interns came from 15 universities/institutes in India, USA, UK, the Netherlands, New Zealand, and Norway. These include Cornell University, University of Illinois, London School of Economics and Political Science, University of Oslo, University of Wisconsin, University of North Dakota, Delhi University, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics (GIPE), Acharya NG Ranga Agricultural University (ANGRAU). Four students were funded by World Food Prize Borlaug-Ruan International internship.
- Acted as a resource person in various National Level Training Programs related to impact assessment, research priority setting, WTO negotiations and agricultural economics research in Bangladesh and India. Also acted as a resource person for training programs organized for participants from South Asia, and for participants from Asia and Pacific region.

- Coordinated Two-week long Training Programs on WTO and Bangladesh Trade Policy (both Foundation and Advanced Level) organized separately for university teachers, and economic journalists.
- Coordinated preparation and publication of “Training Manual on WTO and Bangladesh Trade Policy” (<http://cpd.org.bd/index.php/training-manual-on-wto-and-bangladesh-trade-policy/>)

f. Organizer of National and International Events

- Pre-conference Mini-symposium on “Rapid Transformation of Rural Economies in South Asia: Insights from Village Dynamics Studies” during 8th International Conference of the Asian Society of Agricultural Economists (October 2014) held in Dhaka, Bangladesh
- International Workshop on Building Climate Resilient Agriculture in Asia (May 2010), held in Dhaka, Bangladesh
- Trade and Development Symposium on Least Developed Countries (LDCs) in Hong Kong (December 2005) and in Geneva (December 2009) during the WTO’s Ministerial meetings,
- International Civil Society Forum on LDCs (in Dhaka, October 2005)
- International Civil Society Forum on Advancing LDC Interests in the Fifth WTO Ministerial (in Dhaka, May 2003)
- Citizen’s Taskforce on Rural Economy, National Policy Review Forum (2003) Bangladesh, convened by the Centre for Policy Dialogue, the Daily Star and the Prothom Alo.
- Acted as member (2005-2010) of various committees set-up by the Ministry of Agriculture, Ministry of Planning, and Ministry of Commerce, Government of Bangladesh.

g. Review and Editing of Publications/ Journals

- Reviewer of Professional Journals: (1) Bangladesh Journal of Agricultural Economics, (2) Food Security, (3) Fisheries
- Convener (2002-2010): Young Scholars’ Seminar Series (YSSS), Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), Bangladesh
- Assistant Editor (2002-2010): CPD Dialogue Report Series, Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), Bangladesh
- Series Editor (2002-2005): CPD-IRRI Policy Brief Series, Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), Bangladesh
- Chair (May 2008 to August 2010): Research Management Committee (RMC), Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), Bangladesh
- Member (October 2001 to August 2010): Management and Implementation Committee (MIC), Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), Bangladesh

V. SPECIAL SKILLS

- a. Computer Literacy: Fully conversant with PC Computers and state-of-the-art database management and economic analysis software including Stata, GTAP, SAS, SPSS, NLogit, and Eviews. Familiar with, and have used Geographical Information Systems (GIS) software ArcView, ArcInfo, and ArcGIS.
- b. Household Surveys: Long experience in household surveys and data analysis (both cross-section and longitudinal panel data) for Bangladesh and India. In-depth knowledge of collation, processing, management and analysis of district and country level data. Led panel household surveys conducted from more than 1800 households located in 42 villages in India and Bangladesh for the period 2009/10 to 2014/15. Panel datasets have been disseminated through the VDSA website (<http://vdsa.icrisat.ac.in>) as Open Access. More than 1,200 researchers and students from about 250 universities and institutions located in 45 countries have been using the VDSA databases.
- c. Database Management: Led the development of the VDSA Knowledge Bank, technically a Data Warehouse (<http://vdsakb.icrisat.ac.in/>), with online analytical processing (OLAP) features. It is the first of its kind for management of rural household survey data in the world. It provides ready-to-use summary reports on key performance indicators (income, asset, coping pattern, rainfall pattern, productivity and profitability, credit, etc.) of rural economy as well as customized reports for end-users. The Knowledge Bank uses Microsoft SQL and Microsoft Business Intelligence (MSBI) tools for its development. It is the single source repository of all household survey data collected for 1975 to 2008 by ICRISAT, and from 42 villages in India and Bangladesh (2009/10 to 2013/14) through the VDSA project. With this new innovation, web-based dissemination of data is more efficient and users have been benefiting through reduction in their pre-analysis data formatting time.
- d. Expert in econometric analysis, use of multi-market models and Geographical Information Systems (GIS) and rapid rural appraisal techniques.
- e. Language Proficiency:

English	: Fluent in reading, writing and speaking.
Bengali	: Fluent in reading, writing and speaking.
Hindi	: Limited ability to speak and read.

VI. HONOURS, DISTINCTIONS AND FELLOWSHIP

- Winner of the Emerald Literati Network 2012 Awards for Excellence, in recognition of the paper published in the Journal of International Trade Law and Policy in 2011. (Deb, U. and Amin MA. 2011. Impact of the Doha Round Negotiation on Bangladesh Agriculture: An Analysis of the Revised Draft Modalities. Journal of International Trade Law and Policy. 10 (2): 104 – 123).
- The Agricultural Economics Research Association (India) awarded Dr R T Doshi Prize (2000) for the following paper: Deb U, Joshi PK, and Bantilan MCS. 1999. Impact of modern cultivars on growth and relative variability in sorghum yields in India. Agricultural Economics Research Review. 12 (2): 84-106.

- The CGIAR Science Council's Standing Panel on Impact Assessment (SPIA) identified two of my studies on impact assessment (one on spillover impacts of sorghum research at ICRISAT, and another on impacts of research and dissemination of 'GIFT Tilapia' by the WorldFish Center) as good examples of emerging 'best practice' as being particularly meritorious in terms of quality of analysis and presentation. The SPIA identified only six studies, out of 30 individual case studies on impact assessments done by the CGIAR Centres during 2003-2005, for such special recognition.
- Fellow, Salzburg Seminar, Session 431: Completing the Doha Round: Bridging the Agricultural Divide (30 Apr - 05 May 2006)
- Obtained First Class in all public examinations.
- Affiliate Research Scholar, Social Sciences Division, International Rice Research Institute (IRRI), Philippines (July 1993 to November 1995). Conducted research on the effect of farmers' education on agricultural output growth, technology adoption and resource use efficiency in Bangladesh agriculture. Completed Ph.D. thesis entitled "Human Capital and Agricultural Growth in Bangladesh".
- Fellow, British Council. June 1991 to August 1995.
- Fellow, Winrock International. April 1991 to May 1991.
- Scholar (1981-85), Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education, Comilla, Bangladesh.
