Fall 2022 classes will begin in mid-August.

How do I go about getting credit for college courses I have taken in high school or at any other college?

First year and transfer students should have transcripts with grades for all college-level credits earned sent to the Office of Admissions. AP and CLEP scores should also be sent to the Office of Admissions. Information about college courses already taken, as well as AP and CLEP exams, should be discussed with your adviser during registration.

When you attend registration, you will meet one-on-one with an adviser who will assist you with course selection. You will go home with your class schedule at the end of the program.

When is orientation and what takes place during this program?

Many orientations will be held throughout the Summer- both virtually and in-person. Helpful sessions are conducted to introduce you to UAPB's academics, campus services and student life opportunities. Orientation also provides an opportunity to get to know other members of your entering class. Our student orientation leaders have designed a program to make your transition to UAPB as seamless as possible. The goal is to promote positive academic, personal and social experiences. You also will learn about our vibrant student life and how to get involved.

Is orientation mandatory?

Yes. As a new student, it is important that you are introduced to the wealth of opportunities and services at UAPB so you can avail yourself of a full collegiate experience.

Does UAPB provide services for students with disabilities?
